

EMIL LOHRISCH SHOTS MRS. A. D. ESTES TO DEATH

Then Shoots Himself Thro Head and Physicians Say Will Die
—Cause A Mystery

Shortly before 9 o'clock Friday night, Emil Lorch, 48, proprietor of the Richmond Ice Cream factory, living at Main and Hallie-Irvine streets went to the home of Mrs. Lucy Estes West Irvine street, between Second and Third streets, and, forcing his way into the house, pursued Mrs. Estes with a drawn revolver, shot her twice in the left breast after a terrific struggle, then turned the weapon on himself and tore away the front portion of his skull.

Mrs. Estes fell to the floor and Lorch, with blood and brains issuing from the fearful gap in his right temple, extending entirely across the forehead, was lying upon the floor, across the prostrate body of the woman, upon the arrival of the police a few minutes later.

Chief of Police Claude Devore, the first official to enter the house when the tragedy was reported by Miss Lillian Estes, 17, of Lancaster, who ran excitedly down the street, took in the situation at a glance. He beheld the two writhing forms upon the floor in an inner room, the furniture of which had been greatly disarranged, apparently by the struggle of the woman to evade the intruder. The revolver was lying nearby on the floor. Chief Devore raised Lorch from his position and asked what in the name of the Almighty he meant by murdering the woman. Lorch, Chief Devore said, uttered some unintelligible short sentence, and said no more. He was placed upon a couch near at hand. At this juncture, Patrolmen William Maupin and Jack Hardin, who accompanied the chief, and who were unable to gain entrance at the front door of the Estes home, entered. The chief picked up Mrs. Estes, who was still breathing, but the officer stated she died after breathing no more than four times.

Lorch was taken to the Pattie A. Clay Infirmary, where physicians and surgeons worked until past midnight. He has but a slight chance for recovery, it was stated by Dr. Hume.

Miss Lillian Estes, of Lancaster, niece of Mrs. Lucy Estes, who was the guest of her aunt, was with Mrs. Estes at the time of the arrival of Lorch. There were a number of men roomers in the upper portion of the house. Lorch first endeavored to gain entrance by way of the front door. This was locked. Mrs. Estes, who was in a middle room, told her niece that someone was trying to get into the house. Miss Estes notified the roomer and ran to lock the kitchen door, and was there when Lorch strode upon the porch. He passed one of the roomers, it is said, while on the porch in the darkness, brushed past him, and pushed open the door. Miss Estes, who was there when the door flew open, darted behind it, and evidently saved her life, she states, for the man, who, she claims had a pistol in his hand, rushed past her and pursued her aunt, Mrs. Estes, who ran to another room.

Lorch began shooting and Miss Estes, seeing an opportunity to escape ran from the house, leaping from the porch, badly spraining her ankle. However, she ran around the house and into the street, spreading the alarm.

Indications are that Mrs. Estes, being confronted by the man, ran to the front room, and then by the way of folding door entered another of the inner rooms, where the fatal shots were fired. The struggle apparently lasted for several minutes, since five shots were fired, one piercing Mrs. Estes' heart, another entering just below it, and one passing through a dresser near at hand. The struggle, judging from bloodstains, and the location and position of the bodies at the time of the arrival of the police, occurred in the corner of this room, where Lorch apparently overtook his victim.

The revolver with which the shooting was done is said to have been borrowed a few days ago by Lorch from Owen Walker. It was a pearl-handled, 38 calibre variety, containing five cartridges. The first three were evidently used on Mrs. Estes, and the one other effective one upon himself by Lorch.

Coroner Muncy was informed of the tragedy and after an inspection, the body of Mrs. Estes was removed to the Oldham undertaking establishment, where it was prepared for burial. The clothing showed the close proximity of Lorch at the time of the shooting, being badly powdered.

burned. Miss Estes, of Lancaster, who later returned to the Estes home, stated there were no words spoken between the two to her knowledge. She said Saturday morning that she had known Lorch as a friend of the family for many years.

The motive for the crime is said to be a mystery. Lorch is said to have been a close friend to Mrs. Estes, as well as her late husband, A. D. Estes, who died last January. Lorch, who has been a resident of the city for several years, is said to have been acting in a queer manner recently. He is credited, police say, with having met with business reverses, although recognized as a successful business man generally. It is related by a friend Lorch recently went to the home of a friend and picked up a revolver and insisted upon carrying it away. It is said that the revolver with which the shooting was done was borrowed Thursday night.

Lorch, who is aged 48, and married, would say nothing after he reached the hospital, although he called for Chief of Police Devore several times. The chief responded, whereupon Lorch would relapse into a state of silence and refuse to make a statement. The nature of his injury is such as to cause the physicians to believe that his recovery is doubtful. The bullet, which was fired at close range, entered the right temple and plowed its way through the skull, which was literally cracked entirely across the forehead. Large pieces of skull were removed by the surgeons. Dr. Gibson, one of the attending surgeons, stated the effect of the bullet was one of the most peculiar he had ever seen.

Mrs. Lucy Estes, who was 42 years old, had been a resident of the city for years, and was well and popularly known. She was recognized as a business woman of no mean ability, this fact developing since the death of her husband. She was the owner of considerable business and residence property in Richmond. She is survived by three brothers and three sisters. Most of her relatives are from Garrard county, where she was born and raised.

News of the tragedy was sent to a number of relatives late Friday night and one of the first arrivals was Mrs. Nannie Cornett, mother of Mrs. Estes from Paint Lick. She is suffering as a result of the shock; however, has been in attendance at the home of her daughter since a late hour Friday night.

William Cornett and Bud Cornett, brothers of the unfortunate woman, arrived in Richmond early Saturday morning. J. A. Estes, of Waco, a brother-in-law of Mrs. Estes, the murdered woman, and brother to her late husband, was one of the first relatives to arrive. He stated that while he was assured of the friendship between the family of Mrs. Estes and the Lorch family, he could assign no reason for the tragedy, unless it was a mental strain as a result of the alleged financial reverses said to have been suffered by Lorch recently, and whose condition mentally has been questioned by several of his friends during the past week or two.

At the time of this edition no arrangements had been made for the funeral, although it was given out by relatives that it would in all probability be conducted Sunday.

Mrs. Estes was preparing to go to St. Louis for an extended visit to relatives and friends.

Lorch came to America from Germany when he was 18 years of age, 30 years ago, at the instigation of a man named Vierman, restauranter. Lorch worked for the latter until Vierman's death, after which he went to Mt. Sterling, where he spent three years, returning to Richmond. His first business was the restaurant business here. He was later an agent for a beer company, and again went in business for himself. Mrs. Lorch is prostrated over the affair and was unable to talk of the tragedy Saturday.

Saturday afternoon at a late hour Lorch's condition was unchanged. Reaction had not set in. There is little, if any, chance for his recovery, the physicians gave out Saturday afternoon.

At 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon Lorch was regaining more of a normal temperature. However, the physicians believe this is short-lived. The funeral of Mrs. Estes will take place at the First Christian church, Rev. Dr. Carpenter officiating. Interment at Richmond cemetery.

Mrs. Estes is survived by her mother, Mrs. Fannie Estes, aged 75, of

LEADING IRISHMAN COMMENTS BECKHAM

Says Senator's Position On Irish Question Is All That Anyone Should Desire Now

(Special To Daily Register)
Louisville, Ky., Sept. 25.—Judge Matt O'Doherty, a prominent attorney and one of Louisville's leading citizens of Irish birth, today commented strongly on the stand of Senator J. C. W. Beckham, in refusing to favor recognition of the Irish republic in its present form. Born in Ireland, and thoroughly conversant with the needs of that unfortunate country, Judge O'Doherty expressed the opinion that no American citizen whether of Irish or any other connection, can take offense at the candor and courage of Senator Beckham's position.

"Everyone at all acquainted with Senator Beckham," said Judge O'Doherty, "knows that the distinguishing features of his character are courage and candor. He answers the question propounded to him becomingly and no friend of the Irish cause should take offense. I know the gentlemen composing the committee which asked the question and have high regard for them. I can not, however, believe that the propriety of propounding such a question to the candidates for the Senate or House or Representatives, was as fully considered as it should have been. The gentlemen would, I feel sure, be among the last who would wish to give the impression of so unjust to citizens of Irish birth or descent that their course in American politics is to be controlled in any measure by conditions or questions affecting American interests. The people of Ireland or of England need no new assurance as to the sentiment or feeling of the United States, or their representatives on the Irish question. The public sentiment of this country, without regard to party, is now and has been from the beginning, overwhelmingly on the side of Ireland in her centuries' struggle for independence, just as the sentiment and public opinion of Ireland were overwhelmingly on the side of the colonies during their struggle.

"But when a candidate for the Senate of the United States was asked whether in a given contingency, he would cast a vote which might, as Senator Beckham pointed out, involve this country in war with a foreign power, there was but one possible answer to the question. Senator Beckham gave that answer and so far from forfeiting thereby the good opinion, esteem or confidence of the American citizens of Irish birth or descent, it has as I happen to know, and as it should do, but raised him in their estimation. Citizens of Irish birth or descent have not given nor do not give a divided allegiance to the flag of our country. They are Americans, first and before all else, while never wavering in their affectionate regard for the land of their ancestors. Indeed, I am one of those who believe that notwithstanding all the turmoil of the present, notwithstanding the many and grievous mistakes that have been made on both sides, a working agreement between the peoples of England and Ireland will yet be found which without in any way menacing the power or prestige of England, will give to Ireland that measure of independence and control of her own affairs without which as centuries of bitter strife has attested, there can be no lasting peace between them."

"I doubt if a corporal's guard of representative Americans of any political party could be found who would not be willing to do all that could reasonably be demanded of them to hasten such a consummation and none, I am sure, more willingly or gladly than Senator Beckham. The great need of the present day is men like Senator Beckham with the courage of their convictions."

HAGGARD CASE TO JURY AT 6 SATURDAY

Day Spent in Presenting Arguments—Verdict Is Expected by Sunday Morning

With the closing of the evidence Friday night, which came at an earlier hour than anticipated, the Rodney Haggard case rested until Saturday morning when the arguments were begun. There are three for the commonwealth and a like number for the defense. These will require the entire day. It is expected the case will go to the jury Saturday evening by 6 o'clock, when the arguments are to be closed. It is probable there will be a verdict by Sunday morning.

Haggard took the stand in his own defense at 9:10 o'clock. He answered the questions calmly. He said he married Nancy Mullins, February 19, 1916. They have one daughter, a little girl over three years old, he said. He said his own and his wife's families are extensively connected.

He said there are two entrances to his apartment. He and his family occupied the entire second floor. He said he and his wife got "along nicely" up until April of this year. Witness said his suspicion of "something wrong" was when he, in company with Bruce Taylor and J. A. Boone went to Louisville to take the Scottish Rite in Masonry. While there his wife telephoned him and asked him if he would be home that night. He told her he might not be home until the following night as he had to transact business for Frank Thompson. Thompson telephoned him he could not be there, and witness came home Saturday morning instead of at night, and found that his wife had gone to the races in Lexington.

The following week, he said, his wife turned the corner at the Citizens Bank and crossed the street near the Baldwin Millinery store, and came north to the Rupert-Stewart store, and Ben Good came out and they talked about five minutes.

He later asked his wife about the conversation and she said Good had only said he had seen him (Rodney) at the races, and witness said "it took a long time to tell that."

He said his wife had several times told him she thought Good a "handsome man." At another time, witness came home from Lexington, and found a note pinned on the curtain in his wife's hand, writing saying she had gone to the tent show with Mr. and Mrs. Hunt Hadley. Witness went to the tent show and saw his wife sitting by Ben Good. After 15 or 20 minutes, his wife said she had left him, and a few minutes later Good left the tent with two young ladies. Good returned alone to the tent. Witness told his wife to go back and stay with the people she had come with. When the witness got home his wife denied being with Good but later confessed that she was with Good.

She explained she had met Harvey Lisle and wife on the street and they asked her to go to the show; that "they drove out to E. W. Davis' home and got him and they went to the Elks club and got Ben Good."

His wife later connected her statement by saying that Davis and Good were sitting in the car at the time she and Mrs. Lisle got in the machine. Witness was told by his brother F. H. Haggard that the party was made up as described just before.

Later, June 23, Haggard said he went to Jamestown, Ky., on business. The baby was sick with whooping cough, and his wife and child continued to stay at her parents' home.

On June 27, witness said he found scraps of a note in a waste basket and a blotter used at his wife's desk. Witness placed the scraps of paper together, and the note was in his wife's handwriting. (Note was exhibited to the jury). Witness read the note: "Leave the — with Mrs. Lockman or your mother and come down to Polly's. N. S. and B. G. will be there and I promised to have you there in at least ten minutes."

Witness said he believed the initials stood for Nelson Strode and Ben Good. He found a writing of his wife's as follows:

"Who taught you how to write such nice letters; how to say the right thing the thing that pleases the feminine mind?"

A blotting paper with the name "Mr. Ben Good, City," was shown to jury, with a mirror to reflect the words so as to be legible.

Witness said from the notes and blotter he believed his wife had been meeting Ben Good and carry on a correspondence with Good.

He put his wife's cloths in a trunk and sent the trunk to her father's home. He believed his wife had been guilty of misconduct with Ben Good.

Mrs. Haggard came to their apartments and asked why her trunk had been sent home. He told her of finding notes. She denied writing them. About two weeks later he told her he would like to disabuse his mind about any intimacy between her and Ben Good, and asked her to write the "Say, Kid," note as he dictated. She at first refused, but later did write the dictated note.

and Mrs. Charles Long and Mrs. Dallas Lawrence had seen Ben Good go up into his (Haggard's) apartment about 8:30 at night.

Haggard said that Nelson Strode had told him that he had seen Mrs. Haggard in the rear seat of an automobile with Ben Good; that Ben Good had told him (Strode) that he had taken walks at night with Mrs. Haggard; that he had been to the show twice with her.

Witness said Strode gave the information reluctantly.

Haggard was overcome with emotion the witness stand. He said he had felt that his home was broken up; that his baby was disgraced.

Witness said he was greatly disturbed in mind during his talk with Ben Good.

Haggard said later while he and J. A. Boone were talking on the street, his wife and the baby came up, and Mrs. Haggard said the baby was making "them all cry" by wanting to see her "daddy." He promised to buy her a doll buggy and they went back to Mr. Mullins' home.

Haggard said his wife on August 26 confessed that she "had done wrong" and urged him to forgive her for the baby's sake. They cried and the baby "loved them both around the neck."

His wife said if he (Rodney) did not take her back "her daddy would attend to him and Nelson Strode."

Just previous to the killing, while he and Good were in the restaurant, Good "sneered" at him.

Witness said he was carrying the pistol, because he believed from his wife's statement, that Mr. Mullins would attack him. Witness did not know Good was in town.

After buying the second cigar, witness said he went out of the restaurant and turned to strike a match to light his cigar, and when he turned again, Ben Good was "right in his face."

Witness said at the time of the killing he believed Good had created a breach between him and his wife.

After witness knocked Good down, some one (whom he afterward found out was Virgil Lary) held him (the witness) and he fired the shots.

Witness was cross examined by John R. Allen. He denied that he called his wife bad names or that he had struck his wife.

Witness said he had not seen his wife at the home of his uncle, Gordon Haggard, since she had been there, but he talked to her over the phone last night. He said she had "escaped from custody" at Mullins' home.

Witness said at the time he had killed Good, he did not believe his wife's relations were criminally intimate with Good. He believed that Good had "weaned his wife's affections away from him." He had been told that Good had gone to his apartment during his absence and he believed he "went there for no good purpose."

He said he had gone to the tent show after his wife had left the note on the curtain to see if she was telling the truth. He had not investigated to learn if his wife had any engagement with Mr. and Mrs. Hunt Hadley.

After the occurrence he and his wife lived together until June.

Witness said that his wife told him that her deposition in which she said she had told her to take "the damn scolding baby to her father's" had been given under "duress of Jim Mullins."

He said Mrs. Haggard had said she had been told she would "get a lot of money out of him."

Witness said he did not know if his wife was at home at the time Good was reported to have entered his apartment.

Witness said that he believed that the "Say, Kid" note was not written by Mrs. Albert Curry. That he believed his wife's sister and parents were to be away when the four were to meet at the Mullins home.

Witness admitted that he had never seen a note or memento sent by Ben Good to his wife.

The only information he had was what Nelson Strode and Joe Frazier had told him. He learned regarding the length of time Good is said to have stayed in his apartment from one of his attorney's since the killing.

Witness said he never seen Good and his wife together except twice, once talking in front of Rupert-Stewart store and again at the tent show.

It may be safely said that there has never been such interest in any case in the Clark circuit court in many years. When the doors were opened after the noon hour, there was a "grand rush" by an immense crowd which had packed the lobby. The glass was broken from the door, women's hats were torn off and the sheriff was almost taken off his feet in his attempt to close the doors and keep order.

Rodney Haggard resumed his testimony. He said his wife had denied ever writing a line to Ben Good. She explained the name of Good on the blotter by saying she was in a habit of writing what she was thinking of, while talking over the phone. He inquired why the man's name was on her mind.

He said his wife had asked him the day before the killing to forgive her, and be reconciled to her. He had refused.

Haggard had carried the pistol only two nights, Thursday and Friday nights. He said his wife had threatened on Thursday to "have her daddy attend to him and Nelson Strode."

Witness said he had had some difficulty with Mullins shortly after his marriage with Mr. Mullins' daughter. Just before the killing Haggard said while in the restaurant he (Haggard) ate a sandwich, piece of pie and drank a cigar and went out.

He went to the pool room and read a paper. He saw Lucien Fluty and Alvin Hon, and may have seen John Will Hodgkin. He was in the pool room about 30 minutes.

The Week's Weather Guess

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Sept. 25.—The week's weather prediction for the Ohio valley: Unsettled, warm and showery beginning of the week; fair, considerably cooler after Monday or Tuesday.

Asked by Col. Allen, the witness said he struck Good with his left hand and shot him at the same time. He did not know of the blow or the shot knocked Good down.

After the shooting Haggard put his pistol back in his outside coat pocket. The pistol was a .32 Smith and Wesson pistol. It carried five loads. Three shots were fired.

Haggard said he went to his rooms and locked the door. A few minutes later Policemen Strode and Oliver came in and arrested him.

Asked by Judge Benton, for the defense, Haggard said he did not know what date the "Say, Kid" note was written.

Joseph A. Willis, 80 years old, said he knew William Baldwin, grandfather of Rodney Haggard's mother, during the war and he was considered of unusual mind. He "followed the army" sometimes with the artillery and sometimes in the cavalry in Morgan's command.

He said Baldwin spent most of his time making himself a "comb". Dr. L. H. Browne, said Rodney was of a nervous disposition. He is "a quick, impulsive, proud boy," the witness said.

He said Haggard was proud of his family name. He was of irritable disposition. He had treated Haggard recently for nervous indigestion. Patient seemed to be on verge of a nervous break-down. Cross examined, Dr. Browne said he married Judge Frank Haggard's adopted daughter.

Charles Long testified he had seen Ben Good go up the stairs at the Haggard apartment. He had seen him about 30 minutes previously looking up at the apartment. Good went into the door at the head of the store stairs and closed the door behind him.

Witness said he and his wife and Mrs. Dallas Lawrence had watched Mr. Good. They had "heard rumors" and watched him "out of curiosity." They stayed about 20 minutes and Good had not come down.

Good had on a dark coat and white trousers, and witness thought he wore a straw hat.

Mrs. Charles L. Long said she saw Good between 8:30 and 9 o'clock. Good walked over to the Winchester Drug Store twice. Good then went up the iron stairs of the Haggard apartment, and closed the door. Witness had heard that Rodney and his wife had had a "little trouble over Good, and they naturally watched him."

Mrs. Dallas Lawrence corroborated Mr. and Mrs. Long. She had asked Joe Frazier about it at the Renaker poultry office in the presence of Mrs. Leon Renaker before the killing.

F. W. Davis testified he had seen Ben Good and Mrs. Haggard in his (Davis') automobile in the rear seat. Good applied for the use of the automobile and he (Davis) granted it. Good said he "just wanted to sit in the car."

Cross examined, Davis told of going with Mr. and Mrs. Lisle and Mrs. Haggard to the tent show. Witness said Harvey Lisle, Ben Good and he (witness) sat on the rear seat and Mrs. Lisle and Mrs. Haggard on the front seat of the car. He said the party was "lined up" and all went in the show together. They sat in the same row, although the seats were separated in two.

BOOTLEGGER GAVE SAMUELS HARD RUN

But Prohibition Officer Got Him
With 15 Gallons of Moonshine In His Car

After a merry chase in automobiles that extended almost to Union City, Prohibition Officer Hugh M. Samuels, of Richmond, captured a real bootlegger late Friday afternoon in the person of a white man who gave his name as G. C. Williams, and said his home is at Shelbyville. The man had 15 gallons of moonshine whisky in jars and pugs in his car, and had evidently broken two or three gallons in his wild flight to get away from the officer.

Mr. Samuels did some nice detective work on the case, and learned that Williams was coming in with a lot of booze. He laid for him near a house near the depot, and was on the lookout for him when Williams drove up in his car. The man left the machine running, and was preparing to take some of the whisky out when Mr. Samuels came after him. Williams saw that he was caught, so he jumped into the machine and was off.

It looked like he had a chance to get away but Mr. Samuels was resourceful. He saw Lindsey R. Blaton coming in his car, and jumped in with him, picked up Chief of Police Claude Devore and Patrolman Wm. Maupin and the chase began. Speed records went to smash with the officers gaining constantly and finally Williams slowed down and gave up this side of Union City. He said he supposed they wouldn't hang him. He was brought to jail and placed in safekeeping for a hearing before U. S. Commissioner Warfield Bennett. He was held over, of course, to the November term of Federal Court here. Meanwhile Officer Samuels has a good Ford car on his hands and the whisky has also been confiscated.

BANDITS GET BIG HAUL FRIDAY NIGHT

(By Associated Press)
Chicago, Sept. 25.—Railroad and postoffice officials here today are checking up records to determine the value of registered mail taken from the north-bound Illinois Central New Orleans limited train which was held up last night by two bandits, who, it is believed, $100,000. The bandits, for whom a search is under way here and in northern Illinois, boarded the train at Tucker Ill., 50 miles south of Chicago, when it stopped on a block signal. They entered the mail coach, bound five clerks and rode almost to Riverdale, just outside of the city. There they pulled the bell cord, stopped the train and leaped into the darkness.

GRAYOT'S STATEMENT

(By Associated Press)
Washington, Sept. 25.—John L. Grayot, chairman of the Democratic State Committee for Kentucky, today before the senate committee investigating campaign expenses, identified a photographic copy of a letter to federal officials sent out by the committee.

He denied that postmasters were assessed in proportion to salary, and the amounts they were to pay were called reasonable, he said. "We collected less than $11,000 in our state, adding a difficult proposition to raise money among Democrats in Kentucky, because most of the moneyed interests are on the other side," he added.

CHIMNEY HOLE IS USED AS TELEPHONE

Had it not been for an alleged conversation carried on through an open chimney between the second and third floor of the Madison county jail between a colored woman from Barboursville, and two men, also colored, incarcerated and held on the floor below, there might have been less suspicion against one of the men held for the alleged assault on Eva Chennault, colored, who is in a precarious condition at the Pattie A. Clay hospital. The woman had her skull crushed and a part of her brains were removed by attending physicians, as well as pieces of skull, soon after she was brought to the institution. There is a possibility of recovery.

It is claimed that a hammer had evidently been used and this, or some similar instrument had been forced through the woman's skull. The police were on the watch. As a result, they apprehended two negroes, said to be from Barboursville. It was after their arrest and when placed in cells that the reported conversation took place through the chimney hole. It is said by Chief of Police, Claud Devore, that the statements of one of the men will doubtless fasten the guilt upon him, since he is alleged to have threatened to kill the woman in the cell above, in case she "gave him away."

Said Uncle Silas--

"When I was young and full of pep I made plenty of money and never had a care. I was happy as a jay bird in a tree full of doodlebugs. Things changed as I grew older." No doubt there was a change. There always is. If you spend all as you go along you are sure to find the going much rougher at the very time when you are least able to stand it. "Come easy, go easy," is all right so long as things continue to come. After that, needy and dependent old age stares you in the face. Save a little as you go along and keep it in our bank. That is the sure remedy.

FORMER MURDER CHARGE AGAINST GEORGE ESTES

A formal charge of murder has been filed against George Estes, one of the survivors of the Irvine tragedy of August 20, who has been taken to the county jail from the Pattie A. Clay hospital, where he has been since the time of the gun battle in which two men were killed. It is claimed the warrant was filed by Mrs. R. G. Philpot, of Irvine, whose husband, the chief of police, was killed. Should Estes escape this charge, one will be pressed by Uncle Sam, who has a charge of illegally transporting whisky against the prisoner. The case of Estes is being investigated by the Irvine grand jury, and indictment against him, as well as Detective Joe Spivy, is anticipated at any time.

Auction SALE

Tuesday, Oct. 5
at 10 o'clock a. m., we will sell

J. L. Coffee Farm

70 acres of as fine Tobacco and Corn Land as ever laid out of doors. The attention of all who ever expect to own a home that will pay for itself every three years is called to this tract of land.

Located in Madison County, twelve miles from Richmond, Ky.; one and a half miles from Round Hill and one-half mile from Cottonburg, on the Kirksville and Poosy Ridge Pike. This land is known as the Sidney Tudor tract.

DESCRIPTION OF THIS FARM

It lays one hundred yards from pike with a deeded road to it, and will be sold in two tracts and then as a whole. It has two complete set of farm buildings—two dwelling houses, two tobacco barns, corn cribs, two wells and all necessary outbuildings.

It will be cut to suit the buyers in twenty, thirty or forty-acre tracts. The corn and tobacco will speak for itself. The depth of the soil is unknown.

GET BUSY, YOU HOME-SEEKERS, AND LOOK THIS PROPOSITION OVER. COME TO OUR OFFICE AND WE WILL GLADLY SHOW THIS FARM TO YOU, OR GO TO IT YOURSELF. YOU WILL HAVE TO SEE IT TO APPRECIATE IT.

What this printed notice is trying to explain to you is, before snow flies know where you're headed. Accept this as one of your greatest opportunities.

"Many a Mickle."

If every home—we have 20,000,000 of them—should waste on the average one-half cup of milk daily, it would mean a waste of 2,500,000 quarts daily—912,500,000 quarts a year—the total product of more than 400,000 cows.

Remarkable Sight.

Little Marjorie, aged 4, was looking out of the window on a frosty morning and saw a horse and buggy passing, and called: "Oh, mamma, come quick and see the dust comin' out of the horse's mouth."

Ancient Perfume.

It seems strange to read of saffron as a perfume, but such it was almost universally, and an element of "romance" about it lies in the story told by Hakluyt of a pilgrim smuggling, at the risk of his life, from the Levant, a head of saffron in a hollow made in his staff.

Aiding Aviators.

Small balloons are sent up twice daily from thirty-one observing stations in the United States to ascertain direction and velocity of air currents for the guidance of aviators.

Turkish Antiques.

There is a law in the Turkish empire prohibiting the exportation of relics and antiques more than a hundred years old. Real objects of art of sufficient age to be of value are rarely to be purchased.

CARD OF THANKS

We desire to use the columns of the Daily Register to express our heartfelt thanks to all who so tenderly ministered to us, during our recent bereavement. To the minister, the choir, Dr. Gibson and the nurses the undertaker, for the way he conducted the funeral. Every comforting word was a solace to us in our hour of sorrow, for which we are sincerely grateful.

The Lebanon Enterprise says: "Miss Pauline Yates left the first of the week for Richmond to enter State Normal. She was accompanied by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Yates, the party having motored through in their car."

Among the out-of-town people who were here to attend the funeral of Miss Edna Louise White were Miss Bess Estelle Stone, of Covington; Mrs. A. Sayre, Mrs. S. H. Haggard, Mrs.

Isaac Brown, of Winchester; Mrs. A. H. Brees, of Middlesboro, and Mrs. R. L. Richardson, of Louisville

RUTH MAKES IT 51

New York, Sept. 25.—"Babe" Ruth, heavy hitter of the New York Americans, made his 51st home run of the season in the first inning of Friday's game with the Washington club at the Polo Grounds. In making his 50th home run Ruth reached the mark he had set for himself. The hit, made off Acosta, went into the right field stands. The 51st homer ball went in to the right field bleachers. Shaw, of Washington, was pitching against him.

THE $14,000 FUTURITY

At Lexington Tuesday, October 5, the Kentucky Futurity ($14,000 the drawing card for the day, promises to be one of the greatest races ever witnessed, for it is 3-in-5 to a finish, the only 3-in-5 event of the years for colts of that age (which means that only the very fastest and gamest will start.) And among those almost certain to start are not only Sister Bertha 2:06 3-4, Arion Guy 2:05 1-4, Voltag 2:06 1-2, the trio that finished one, two, three in that desperate race (for $6,000) at Columbus last Tuesday, but also Dayster 2:06 3-4, Great Britton 2:07 1-2, Lucille Harvester 2:08 1-2, Miss Ellen Todd 2:10 1-4 on a half-mile track, Natalie the Great 2:08 1-4, Signal Peter 2:08 3-4, Emma Harvester 2:08 1-2 and San Andreas, a frequent winner among aged horses on the half-mile track. And there are others, but the above look the best, and are almost certain to make the field.

CUT THIS OUT

Special Notice: Dr. Frederick Jacobson says that phosphates are just as essential to any woman who tires easily, is nervous or irritable, worn out or looks haggard and pale, to make a strong, robust, vigorous and healthy body as they are to make corn, wheat or any vegetable plant grow strong and healthy. The lack of phosphates is the cause of all endemic conditions and the administration of 5-grain Argo-Phosphate Tablets will increase the strength and endurance 500 per cent in a few weeks in many instances. Dispensed by Richmond Drug Co.

FIFTH BOSTON BANK TO CLOSE WITHIN FIVE WEEKS

Boston, Sept. 25.—The Cosmopolitan Trust company was closed by bank commissioners here today. The commissioners gave no reason. The Cosmopolitan advertised its capital and surplus at $3,000,000 and the resources at $20,000,000. The Cosmopolitan is the fifth bank of Boston to be closed within the last five weeks. The first was the Hanover Trust bank, which went to the wall with the collapse of Charles Ponzi's get-rich-quick scheme.

FLAG RAISING

There occurred at the Valley View school house Friday afternoon a flag raising, at which time, the teacher in charge, Mr. A. C. Duncan, addressed those present on the subject of "The Great Principles for which Our Flag Stands."

The program was as follows: Opening song, Star Spangled Banner; invocation; address; concluding song, Battle Hymn of the Republic; benediction. A very enjoyable afternoon was spent and a few from Richmond were present, those being Mrs. Woods Corbin and son and Mrs. B. K. Duncan.

EXECUTORS NOTICE—Having been appointed executor of Irvine, Shiflet, deceased, I request all persons indebted to said estate to call and settle; also those who have claims present same properly verified by October 1, 1920. This Sept. 9, 1920. J. W. Stagner, Executor.

FRANCIS WEIRATH, foreman at Goodrich Rubber Co. Akron, O., who declares he was improved so since taking Tanlac that no one would ever take him to be the same man. Says he gained fourteen pounds.

"To look at me today no one would ever take me to be the same person I was before I began to take Tanlac. It simply has done wonders for me and I want everybody to know about this medicine," said Francis Weirath, foreman of a large department of the Goodrich Rubber Company plant at Akron, Ohio. Mr. Weirath resides at 210 West State street, in that city.

"I was in an awful bad state of health for fourteen years, and in the past ten years I got to the point where life was a burden. I suffered terribly with indigestion and dyspepsia. I never had any appetite and all I could eat for breakfast was a soft boiled egg and a little milk. I would get so nervous and miserable that many a night I never slept a wink, and when nothing would bring me any relief I had just about come to the conclusion my case was hopeless. "I haven't taken but three bottles of Tanlac, but I feel better than I have felt for twelve years. I've gained fourteen pounds; in weight, and am getting heavier and stronger every day. I never have indigestion any more, my appetite is splendid and I eat just anything and everything I want. I sleep sound every night, and all that tired, worn-out feeling is gone. In fact, I am a well man in every way.

"The men at the plant all tell me I am looking fine these days and getting fat. They all want to know what I am doing to myself and it's always a pleasure for me to tell them about Tanlac. Tanlac is sold in Richmond by Stockton & Son; in Berea by the Welch Department Store, and at College Hill by Ginter Bros.

A Commissioner later said the bank was closed because of slow loans and the inability to meet the continued heavy withdrawals of deposits. The deposits amounted to nearly $13,000,000.

THE ladies should attend the demonstration of the Crystal Electric Washer at Douglas and Simmons' this week. It will show them how to save a world of labor. 229 3

MEDICINE SALES BRING BIG FINE FOR WOMAN

Mrs. Lincoln Lamb, charged with selling liquid in the way of a patent medicine, which is said to have an intoxicating effect, especially if indulged in to a great extent, was found guilty and fined the sum of $100 and costs. She gave bond for her appearance later. It is expected that an appeal will be taken. This is said to be one of the cases wherein the patent medicine being sold by agents in Richmond is causing so many intoxicated persons.

BIG POLICE GRIND WITH VARIOUS RESULTS NAMED

There was a big grind of cases Friday night before City Judge, G. Murray Smith. They consisted of everything from suspicious characters to assault and battery with intent to commit murder, and incidentally, selling patent medicine. There were a number of cases of minor character also heard, and a number fined for intoxication. There were a number carried over until the next meeting, owing to the absence of a number of witnesses and attorneys.

Thomas and Rollin Roberts, charged with firing deadly weapons within the city limits, were held for the grand jury and gave bond for their appearance later. They are said to have fired a revolver several times at a colored man recently.

The Product of Experience

Dear Sir—If you prefer limited seating capacity in an automobile, the Chevrolet "FB 20" Roadster will have an especial appeal for you.

For the "FB 20" affords you ideal comfort for two passengers. For instance it is just the right size and weight for a roadster. It handles as easily in traffic as it does on the open road.

And its design and proportions are reflected in its clean-cut appearance. It looks its efficiency.

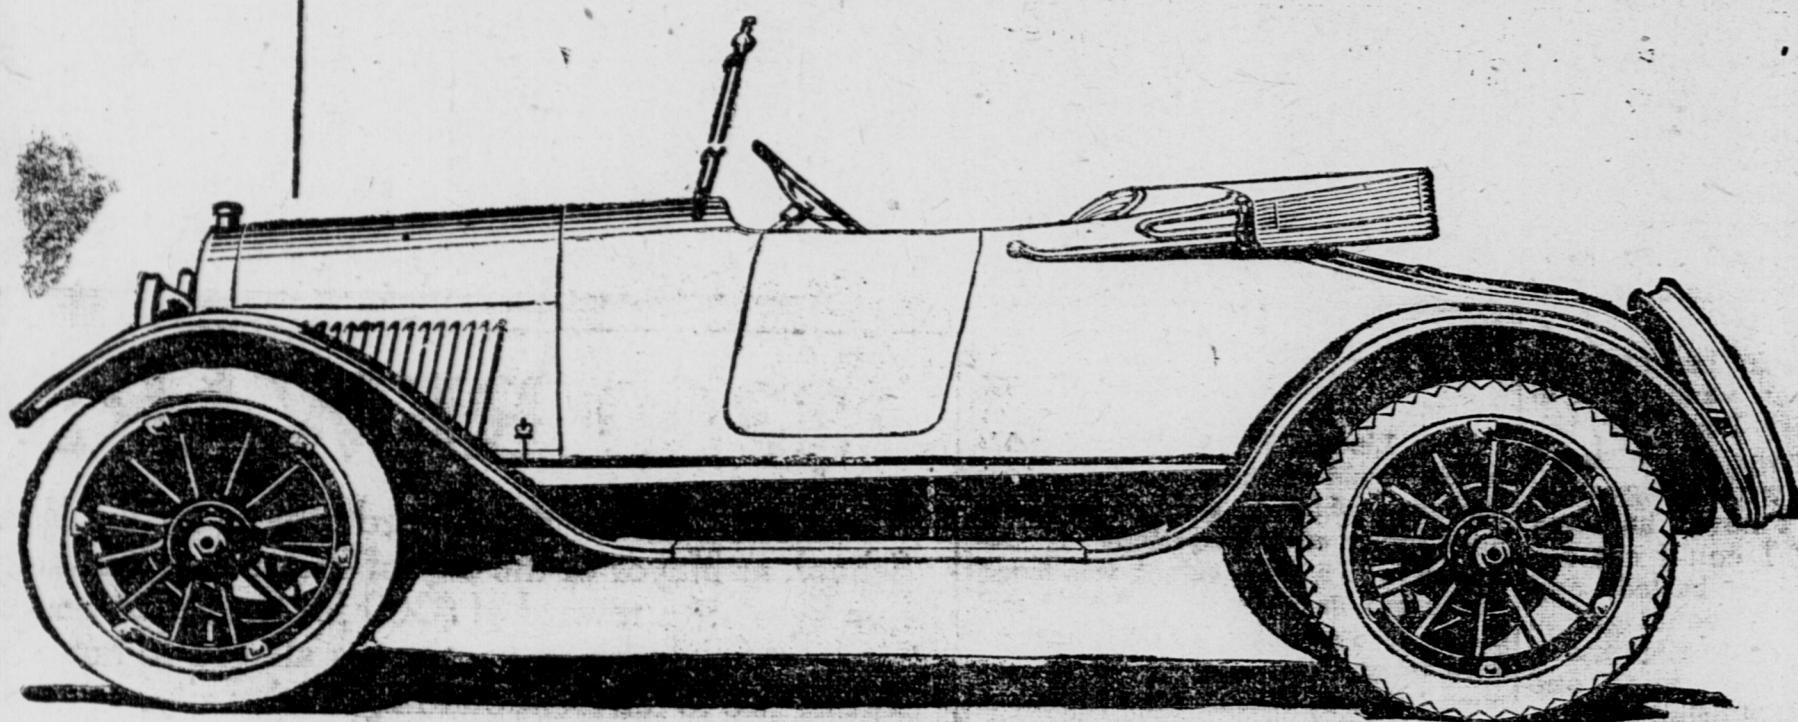

You'll appreciate especially the luggage compartments that have been made to harmonize with the lines of the body. The one in the rear has ample capacity for suit cases. Another, just back of the seats has been provided for smaller parcels.

Then there's its equipment, replete in up-to-date convenience.

For the price you will certainly receive full value. In operation you will receive more than that. For the Chevrolet "FB 20" Roadster is unusually economical with gasoline and tires. Anyone can tell you that.

And there's a lot more that we can tell you that will be of interest and benefit you. We would like to have you see the "FB 20". Where will it be the most convenient—here or at your home?

TRANSYLVANIA WILL CONDUCT CAMPAIGN

FAMOUS OLD LEXINGTON COL-LEGE OF CHRISTIAN CHURCH WILL PUT ON EDUCATION-AL DRIVE.

IN INTER-CHURCH MOVEMENT

Needs for Ensuing Year and for the Next Five Years Stated by Dr. Crossfield.

Lexington, Ky.—Transylvania College, famous old institution of the Christian Church in Kentucky, first college in the country west of the Alleghenies, is conducting a campaign of education, so that the people of Kentucky and of the Christian Church in the State may know something of the college and its needs. The campaign is preliminary to the national campaign of the Inter-Church World Movement, which will come later in the year, and which is designed to make possible the increase of salaries of college professors, and to place their living conditions on a proper plane, besides needed improvements, including a fire-proof library building.

An organization is being perfected to conduct the educational campaign, and Dr. R. H. Crossfield, president of the college, has made a statement of the needs of the college for the coming year and for the next five years.
These needs have been fixed at $588, 124 for the year, and $2,454,953 for the next five years, from estimates which he presented at the Inter-Church World Movement committee meeting in Atlantic City in January, and later at the St. Louis Conference.

Brady State Director.

Charles A. Brady, of New York City, one of the best known organizers in church and war work campaigns in the east, has come to Lexington and has taken charge of the work as State Director.

Dr. Crossfield has already called attention to the pressing needs of Transsylvania, including funds sufficient to increase the salaries of the professors 50 per cent; a fire-proof building for Transylvania's old and priceless library; funds to pay off outstanding indebtedness of the college; a new dormitory for women; a new lighting plant; a physics building; a gymnasium and swimming pool for Hamilton College; a fine arts building at that college; funds to repair Morrison
Chapel and to provide an athletic field.

The work of Campaign Director Brady will be done with the aid of an executive committee, composed of W.
Hume Logan, of Louisville, chairman;
W. C. Lawwill, of Lexington, vice chairman; Clarence E. Tate, of Stanford; Rev. Homer W. Carpenter, of Richmond; James R. Bush, publicity chairman; Joseph W. Porter, chairman of minute men; J. T. Vance, treasurer; Leonard G. Cox, President R. H. Crossfield, Rev. I. J. Spencer and Dr. J. C.
Carrick.

District Chairmen Named.

District chairmen have been selected and they have charge of the organization of the counties in their respective districts as follows:

J. J. Castleberry, Mayfield; E. S.
Smith, Hopkinsville; L. A. Warren, Hodgenville; H. T. Young, Mt. Vernon; Carl Agee, Lawrenceburg; Edgar
C. Riley, Petersburg, and Donald C.
Ford, Ashland.

The district directors are actively at work to secure county chairmen, and each county will be organized for a thorough campaign among the disciples in Kentucky, as well as among the alumni of Transylvania, Hamilton College and the College of the Bible, many of whom are now living in, and are prosperous and useful citizens of,
other states.

Transylvania's forward campaign is being made in connection with the Inter-Church World Movement, and the college gets thus early into the field so that the people of the Christian churches of Kentucky may be better informed as to the remarkable college they have at Lexington (which has educated more than 90 per cent of its ministers in Kentucky who have had college training), and as to its needs, before they are asked to contribute to the funds to put it in a position to keep abreast with the progressive times educationally.

ESCHEATED TORY ESTATES FORMED FIRST FINANCIAL SUPPORT OF TRANSYLVANIA.

Three escheated estates of tories,
two from Fayette and one from Jeffersupport of Transylvania College back in 1783, when it was Transylvania Seminary. Washington, Aaron Burr,

General LaFayette and John Jacob Astor I. were among the first who gave to its endowment.

ANNUAL COLORED INSTITUTE OCT. 4

The annual institute for colored rural school teachers will be held in Madison county at the colored high school in Richmond, and there will be a number in attendance from Garrard county.
There are 23 teachers from Madison county who will be in attendance besides the visitors. The institute will be conducted by F.
W. Wood, of Paris, a well known educator who will have some original ideas, together with discussions regarding the studies and deportment of children for presentation during the week.
The Garrard county attendance will arrive in time for the opening of the institute and remain until it closes.

All of the teachers of Madison county are busily engaged and are said to be doing exceptionally good work, according to reports from the schools. This is one of the few counties in this part of the state where the colored institutions are provided with instructors from the home county. The attendance has not been the biggest during the past few weeks owing to the fact that many have been taking advantage of the special permit law which enables those between 14 and 16 years to remain absent and follow employment in the tobacco fields at this season of the year.

UNUSUAL CONDITION

Texas Lady Suffered With Pulling and Aching Pains in Her Back, Which Cardui Relieved.

Newton, Texas.—Mrs. C. D. Cook, of 1912 Whitty Street, this city, recently said: "About four months after my marriage, I . . . began suffering much pain, and knew that my condition was unusual, but couldn't just decide what was wrong. I had to go to bed. . . .

"All across my back and hips were pains, pulling and aching until I could hardly sit up. I stayed in bed a few days. My husband had heard of Cardui . . . so I told him he might get it.

"After I had taken Cardui a few days, I was up. I took five bottles and haven't been in bed since for this trouble, for if I have the least symptoms of this trouble I get Cardui and take it in time.

"I have a number of friends who have used Cardui, and they recommend it very highly."

The experience of this Texas lady is similar to that related by thousands of other women.

Cardui is purely vegetable, and mild and gentle in its action. Cardui may be the very medicine you need if suffering with womanly troubles.

Take Cardui. NC-136

SCHOOL REPORT IS GOOD FOR COUNTY

Supt. Edwards Closes Busy Week of Inspection—Board Meeting Coming Soon.

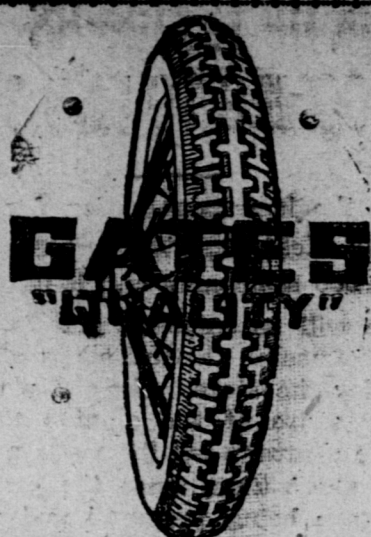

County School Superintendent B. F. Edwards has closed a busy week inspecting the various schools of Madison county and will have a very favorable report to make to the board within a few days when that body holds its regular meeting. The various schools, especially that one at Big Hill, which is nearing completion, were also inspected, and the work reported as progressing as rapidly as possible. There are many students taking advantage of the working permit law, and the attendance is expected to increase within a short time, or after the tobacco crop is laid away. There is some sickness in certain sections of the county, but the general health is reported as being good.

At the meeting of the board there will be reports made relative to the general condition of the schools, including the condition from a sanitary standpoint, as well as the physical condition of the students, the attendance and progress on the various new buildings. The meeting of the board will also record in all probability the naming of a truancy or attendance officer, since it is desired that this office be filled as soon as possible. It is claimed there has been a falling off of attendance in some schools since the office has not been filled. However, Mr. Edwards asserts this will be remedied, since there will soon be an officer on the job.

The student as well as teachers, the superintendent says, are doing well, very satisfactory progress being made. The teachers are considerably interested in the monthly meetings being held in Richmond, and students are taking great pride in the records at various schools. There are said to be some of the younger students making unusual records. It is probable that samples of the work of many of the students from the various schools will be exhibited at the school carnival to be held here during the fall.

The body of Charles Denton, a wealthy Los Angeles capitalist, was found beneath a house in a hermetically sealed box beneath tons of earth.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

Sept. 13, 1920.

Sealed bids will be received by the State Highway Commission, at the office of the State Highway Engineer, Old Capitol building, Frankfort, Ky., until 2:30 p. m., 5th day of October, 1920, for the improvement of the Richmond-Kingston road from the end of the present surface treatment, near the residence of Harvey Chenault, Sta. 112 plus 37 to Kingston Sta. 359 plus 45 in Madison county, a distance of approximately 4.7 miles.

This road is officially known as State Project No. 5, Section A, on the State Primary System in Madison county.

This improvement will consist of surface treatment only for a width of 14 feet and is strictly a maintenance proposition, in accordance with approved specifications.

Instructions to bidders, forms of proposals and specifications may be secured at the office of

FORDSON

Trade Mark

The Fordson Tractor was made to meet the demands and necessities of the everyday American farmer. It was made with the thought that it was the necessity of the man of forty acres as well as the man with one thousand acres. It was made not only for plowing, harrowing, discing, drilling, seeding, mowing, reaping, but for all work on the farm where power is necessary. It was made to bring conveniences to the farmer's home as well as for the cultivation of his fields. It was made to furnish power for the cream separator, silo filling, cutting feed, sawing wood, furnishing power for milking, washing, supplying the house with running water, electric lights, and the hundred and one things on the farm.

It was made to do all this economically and in a reliable way. It was made to be the big profit servant on the farm.

And it has not failed in any of the expectations had for it. It has been tested as no other Tractor has been tested. It has been proven reliable and can furnish proofs impossible to any other Tractor. It has done these things not only in America but in Europe, Asia, Africa, and in the Islands of the Seas. It has met successfully the demands of farmers in every part of the civilized world.

Therefore, the Fordson Tractor can meet all the conditions on your farm. When you buy a Fordson, you are not experimenting—you are buying a servant and a money-maker for you that you can depend upon absolutely from the first day you put it to work. It is easy to understand. It possesses all the power you want. It is simply in control. It is more flexible than you imagine. It will help you cultivate every foot of ground, you have, and every day in the year you will find use for it on the farm. Its appeal to the farmer is in its dependable service and the wide variety of work it can do.

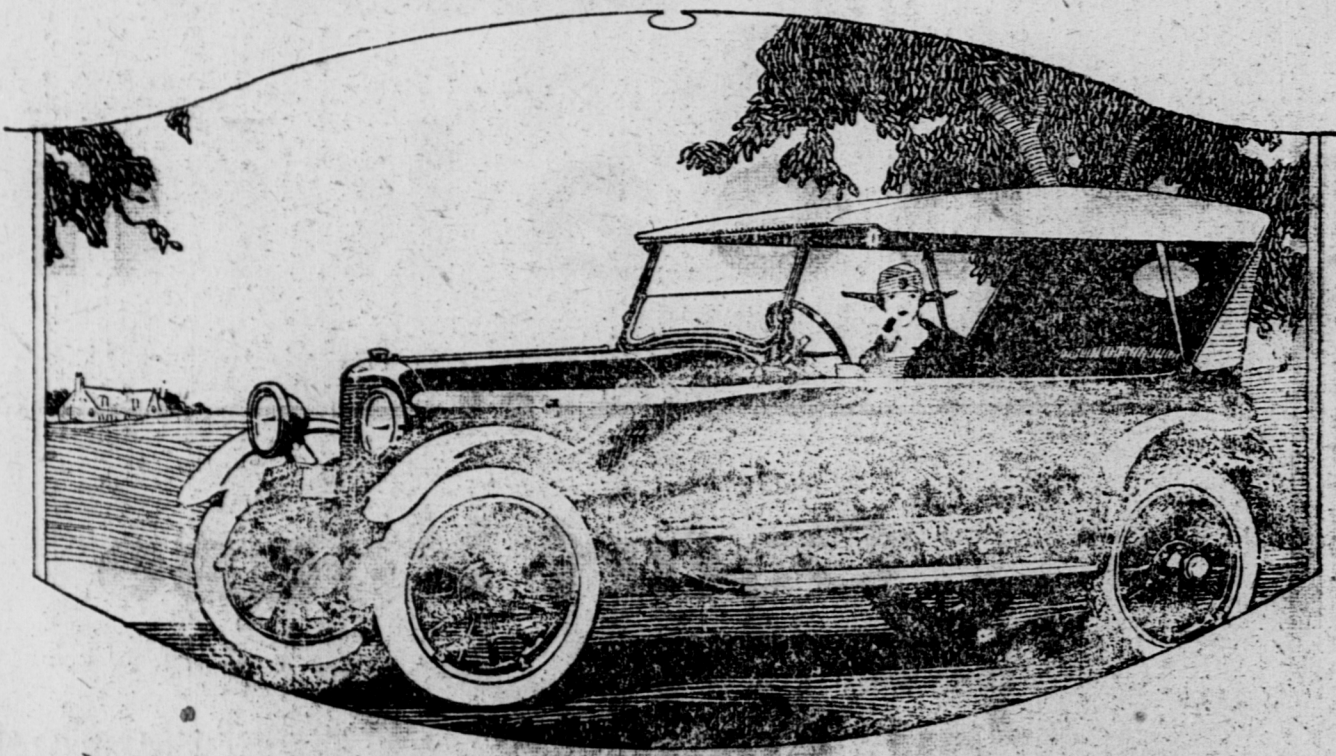

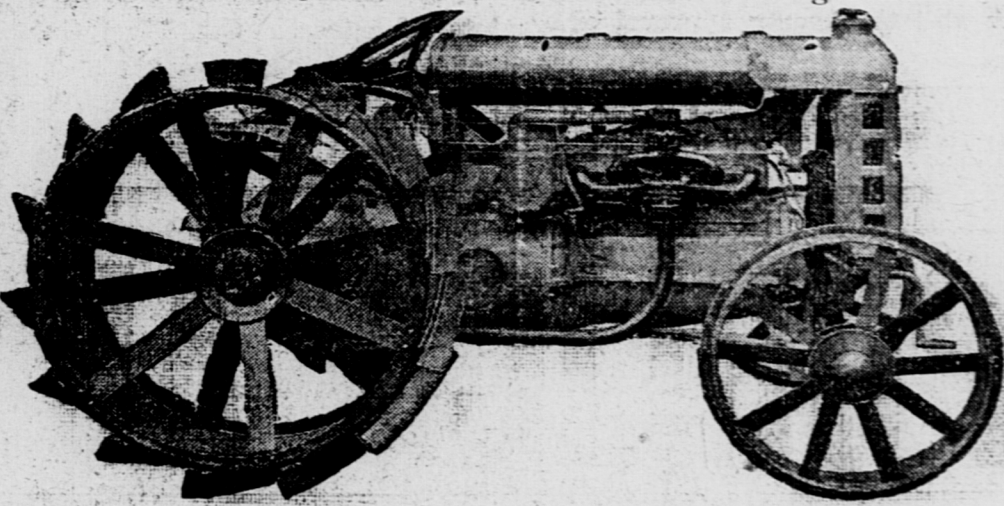

We'd like every farmer that reads this, if he hasn't a Fordson Tractor already, to come to us and let us sell him one. Let us demonstrate its powers, its values, on your farm. Let's get into details—power, reliability, economy. While the sale of a Tractor gives us a small profit, the purchase of a Tractor to the farmer means a money saving servant every day for years. So the sale of a Fordson means more to the purchaser than it does to us. We are arguing for your good, Mr. Farmer. Come in and talk it over. Your time against ours. It is worth it.

And remember, when you buy a Fordson Tractor, we are right here to keep that Tractor in reliable running condition every day. You won't have to wait if anything should get out of order. We are right here to keep it right, because one of the conditions of the Fordson Dealer is that he must keep on hand always a complete supply of parts. This is a guarantee we don't believe you can get with any other farm Tractor. Come in. Let's talk it over.

PAIGE

THE MOST BEAUTIFUL CAR IN AMERICA

YOU have only to remember that your five-passenger Paige Glenbrook is an outgrowth of our experience in the precise methods of war manufacturing to realize that it is a decidedly superior product in the field of light sixes.

It was conceived by Paige engineers during the war period and was brought to perfection only after three years of the most patient research and experimental work.

Its six-cylinder motor is a distinct achievement in engine-building, surpassing every standard of efficiency hitherto attained in light sixes. In body and chassis construction also, it stands as the embodiment of the highest refinements known to automotive engineering.

Search the automobile market as carefully as you please and you will find, we believe, that our five-passenger Paige Glenbrook is quite without equal in the entire light six field.

As a practical vehicle for everyday use, it gives a full and unstinted measure of service for every dollar of its purchase price.

Bread Is Scarce At 25 Cents A Loaf In England
(By Associated Press)

Lodon, Sept. 18.—With bread selling at 25 cents a loaf and soon to be raised to 30 cents and later perhaps to 35 cents, England is harvesting this season the smallest wheat crop since the early days of the war. Production of barley, on the other hand, will show a material increase over that of the last few years.

The reasons for this state of affairs, according to Prof. James Long, a well known agricultural expert, are government control and beer. The price of wheat and are oats are regulated, but no restrictions have been placed on that of barley. As the market price of barley is exceptionally high, farmers planted that grain instead of wheat and oats.

Prof. Long shows that since 1918 wheat has been reduced by 679,000 acres, or more than one-third of the present area, while oats also an important bread stuff, has fallen off by 512,000 acres. "On this basis of wheat," he says,

"this means a loss of bread grain equal to 38,000,000 bushels, or sufficient to feed 7,500,000 persons. It is a curious commentary on the fact that the barley crop has considerably increased, and that in consequence beer has so far occupied the position of bread."

The country has fewer cattle than in any year since 1903 and 5,330,000 less sheep than the average of the 10 years from 1904 to 1913. The decrease in cattle since last year is more than 500,000 head.
